

DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 16, 2020 PALOALTDAILYNEWS.COM » PALO ALTO AND SURROUNDING AREAS

BayArea
NewsGroup

150

PAGE 27

Bay Area baseball icon dies at 77

Obituary: Joe Morgan played for both Giants and A's late in his Hall of Fame career.

Inside

PAGE 4

Coronavirus:

Stanford doctors among leaders of global anti-lockdown movement

PAGE 10

Economy: Bay Area movie theaters hammered by COVID-19 blows

PAGE 28

Performing arts: Ancient comedy, fresh cabarets on view this month

ONLINE

facebook.com/PaloAltoDailyNews

Dr. Lillian Soohoo

Board Certified Dermatologist

Cosmetic & General Dermatology

- 25 years private practice in the Silicon Valley
- Specializes in medical and cosmetic skin care to promote healthy and naturally beautiful skin
- Provides the highest level of care in a friendly, state-of-the-art medical environment

Teledermatology appointments at The Menkes Clinic available now for both Adults and Children

Call 650.962.4600 or visit us online at www.menkesclinic.com to schedule your appointment. Stay Well.

HIGHEST HONOR

Stanford economists awarded Nobel Prize

Paul Milgrom and Robert Wilson designed markets for when traditional ones fail. Page 3

ANDREW BRODHEAD – THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In this Monday, Oct. 12, 2020 photo provided by Stanford University, Robert Wilson, left, and Paul Milgrom stand for a photo in Stanford, Calif. The two American economists, both professors at Stanford, won the Nobel Prize in Economics for improving how auctions work. That research that underlies much of today's economy - from the way Google sells advertising to the way telecoms companies acquire airwaves from the government.